As the world's greatest golfers go to work week in and week out, the PGA TOUR Wives Association makes a significant impact on the communities they visit. Our objective: To provide support for needy children and their families through a variety of volunteering and fundraising activities conducted during PGA TOUR events. Whether it's working side-by-side with the community to feed hungry children, honoring our nation's wounded warriors and their families, entertaining children with life-threatening conditions, raising funds for and awareness against domestic abuse, or promoting literacy, the Association's commitment to giving back leaves an impression long after the tournaments are over.

On August 24th, the PGA TOUR Wives Association will host A Green Carpet Affair, Presented by Sentient Jet. Teaming with The Barclays and Children's Aid and Family Services, we will be rolling out a green carpet to welcome PGA TOUR Professionals playing in The Barclays tournament. The professionals and their wives look forward to mingling with guests, enjoying cocktails, hors d'oeuvres, partaking in a putting contest or two, and bidding on silent auction items.

One hundred percent of the net proceeds from this event will benefit both Children's Aid and Family Services and the PGA TOUR Wives Association charities. To get involved and receive more information, please contact Liz Mason: 201.261.2800 x317 or Sara Moores: SaraMoores@pgatourhq.com or 904.273.3285.

We invite you to join us for what will prove to be a memorable evening and help the PGA TOUR Wives Association continue their long-standing tradition of positively impacting the communities they visit.
